NATURE OF THE ACTION

This is a civil action brought to vindicate the Plaintiff's rights.

Plaintiff are suffering serious harm and are at risk of future serious harm.

Plaintiff are entitled to injunctive relief.

all of the named Plaintiffs have been and continue to be provided grossly inadequate medical care services in all ADOC facilities and monitoring and oversight of medical health care services that have been contracted out to private companies. It is the Plaintiff's responsibility for ensuring that Alabama prisons operate in a manner that is consistent with the United States Constitution. He is sued in his official capacity only.

Defendant Ralph Hooks is the Warden of St. Clair Correctional Facility.

medical care. Under the terms of the contract, Naphcare is obligated to “provide all reasonable and necessary medical, dental, and mental healthcare to inmates” in accordance with the “Standards of Care” set forth in the contract.

Plaintiffs contend that Naphcare has failed to provide the minimum standard of care required by the contract. Specifically, Plaintiffs contend that Naphcare has failed to provide the health care provided to inmates at St. Clair. The acts by Naphcare about which the plaintiffs complain are part of Naphcare’s formal and informal policies and practices.

Insufficient Staffing

10. There is insufficient medical and dental staff to properly screen, diagnose and treat inmates with medical and/or dental problems.

The inmates at St. Clair have no access to a primary care physician.

Inmates, like over 1500 inmates were served by one part-time urologist present at St. Clair only one day per week. Although another physician has apparently been hired recently, it is unclear whether this physician and undesignated, and the dentist is available only two days per week. As a result, inmates are denied prompt access to medical care and are forced to patients, resulting thereby naturally to appropriately refer inmates to a physician for further treatment.

physician for further treatment.

12.

Inmates are charged a $3.00 co-pay every time they are monitored by the Nurse, even if no treatment is provided. Moreover, inmates must pay this fee for each medical consultation that is assessed; inmates are not allowed to combine medical consultations or illnesses in one sick call request. These practices effectively denies inmates with legitimate medical problems from seeking medical attention. Inmates with chronic illnesses are often required utilize the co-pay system for necessary care (as opposed to elective care) that is related to their chronic illness. For example, inmates with diabetes must pay $3.00 every time they seek treatment for hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) even if no treatment is provided.

Moreover, monitoring and insulin adjustment,

Inmates are typically denied information about the results of medical tests, even when these results are abnormal. For example, inmates are uninformed, they are not educated about their disease or how to manage their illness. As a result, inmates do not always seek proper follow-up treatment that could improve their health.

Medication and Medical Supply Practices

20. Inmates on medication, including medication for chronic illnesses, frequently change their prescriptions, or disrupt or change their forcing the inmates to clean feces from the bag in the sinks in their celmedical gloves or disinfectant. In addition to the obvious mess, the practice pos-s a risk of infection to themselves and other inmates from the infection.

Dental Care

Inmates who want dentures are medically necessary must wait for months and sometimes years years to receive them. Inmates who previously received dentures from the DOC must wait at least five years before getting another set even if their old ones fall out or are broken.

Inmates without appropriate dentures cannot eat properly, a problem that creates or exacerbates other ma-lical problems, including malnourishment and acid reflux.
